- A teacher always attentive who helps students in difficulty (He first helped me with my level of English which was not up to par and he helped me to follow the assignments despite the fact that with the football team I can miss some) Very good teacher!
- I believe that the online learning area was extremely helpful and interesting, but the MindTap homework would often involve concepts not learned in the learning area, making it difficult to understand the homework.
- Very thorough during these times. Learning area was a HUGE help; thank you for creating it!

- I don't really have anything negative to say about Dr. Sarbaum or the class in general. However, I do believe that the online version of this class is significantly harder to do well in than an in person version would be. The way the class is designed for online does give a lot of resources for students but most times I felt like I was teaching myself because we could not be in person.
- I enjoyed this class however, I did not like the recitation part of the class, I would have rather watched a zoom of the professor teaching than awkwardly do a worksheet with different classmates on zoom each week.
- The recitation instructor was a little hard understand when explaining the concepts learned in the learning area, not using enough description. However, I believe that the online instructor provided ample amount of material for learning
- This course should not be entirely online. I feel that it would be more effective in person.
- Very thorough! Helped me understand the world better!
